Q.2 Read the following passage carefully and answers the questions given below:

According to the popular tradition, Vikramaditya started the “Vikram Samvat” Era in 57 BCE, after defeating the Shakas. For this reason, those who believe him to be based on a distinct historical figure place him around the 1st century BCE. However, this era is mentioned a “Vikram Samvat” only after the 9th century CE. Other scholars argue that Vikramaditya is a mystical character as several of the legends about him are fantastic in nature. “vikranaditya” was a common title adopted by several Indian Kings, and it is possible that the various Vikramaditya legends are embellished accounts of different kings, particularly Chandragupta II.

Questions:

Q.5 Read the passage carefully and answer the questions given below:

A good novel recreates life as it is. A Great novelist is gifted with a rare insight. His vision animates dead past and anticipates the unborn future. Thus we can wander into the dead maze of the past with a Scot or have a stunning glimpse of the future with a Huxley. And a novelist's revivification of life is more true than that of a historian. For, a historian is more concerned with bare facts that are often misleading whereas a novelist's field of study is human mind.
